

[Download] Altar Your Space: A Guide to the Restorative Home

Altar Your Space: A Guide to the Restorative Home

Jagatjoti Singh Khalsa

Download PDF | ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks*

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#430773 in Books 2007-10-30 2007-10-30 Original language: English PDF # 1 10.25 x .40 x 8.751, 2.00 #File Name: 1601090080160 pages | File size: 37.Mb

Jagatjoti Singh Khalsa : Altar Your Space: A Guide to the Restorative Home before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Altar Your Space: A Guide to the Restorative Home:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Beautiful and moving bookBy Hollywood girlBeautiful and moving book. A completely different take on decorating/redecorating your home. Applying these ideas will make you love how you feel in your surroundings.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Easy read, good ideas.By SantiagoIt was easy to read, I was hoping for more in-depth ideas that I could use to altar my space and some pictures looked like rearranged items, ie lamps in all the photos. I was hoping for more diversity of ambiances, but overall i enjoyed the read.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Beautiful Images!By HariInsightful and Inspiring! This is my favorite coffee table book. It is a tasteful refreshing view on conscious home decor.

Altar Your Space is an invitation to rethink your home and find the sacred in the simple and attainable, creating an intention that allows your environment to reflect your consciousness. Create a home within your house, and accentuate your vision of the sacred within your home.Humble or grand, your home should be your sanctuary. For many of us, however, what often used to be a safe haven has become a place to put our stuff". Altar Your Space will show you how to set an intention, surround yourself with things that bring you to life and infuse your home with consciousness. Sacred furnishings, beautiful pieces sculpted by human hands from real wood, colorful textiles imbued with spirit and purpose these should be the foundation of ones home. Finding the traditional role of interior designer outmoded in many ways, guide Jagatjoti Singh Khalsa provides a foundation for an exploration of self-discovery through the expression of altaring ones home environment. Using bold examples of transformed homes including those of Sharon Stone, Jeremy Piven, Joely Fisher, Adrienne Brody and Shiva Rae, Khalsa demonstrates how to create a sense of sacredness in your living space whether its a bathroom, kitchen, a childrens playroom, a home office or the entire house. Drawing inspiration from the East; a team of craftsmen and artisans in Rajasthan and elsewhere in India, Khalsa suggests simple ways to fill your home with a spirit-infused dcor. Discover within these pages the creative use of antique Chinese wagon wheels, silk bedding, Tara statues, Asian pine tables made from 300-year-old railroad ties, Antique screen doors and Kela vine bedding that bring an eastern sensibility into the modern home. Including 150 full-color photographs, Altar Your Space illuminates how small changes and a new perspective can make all the difference in the effort to live a grateful and radiant life.

From Publishers Weekly Khalsa, part owner of Venice, Calif. home furnishings store Tara Home, presents a guide to creating a peaceful living space "that truly reflects and expresses who you are." While he does address the literal incorporation of altars into one's home, the focus is on turning your home into "a sanctuary for the body, heart and soul of you and your family." Khalsa returns again and again to the idea of self-reflection and listening to one's inner voice ("At some point you may feel intuitively drawn to certain colors, tones, images..."), a valid but frustratingly obtuse point. Specifics are sparse: Khalsa includes few of his clients' goals (whose homes appear in photographs) and little information on choosing elements or room composition. What it lacks in detail, the book makes up for in abundant, lush photography; heavy on Tibetan, Chinese and Indian furnishings-there are multiple statues of Hindu and Buddhist gods, ornately carved beds, bureaus and dressers and rich, vibrant fabrics-these gorgeous full-color images will prove useful for anyone considering an Eastern approach to home decor. Copyright Reed Business Information, a division of Reed Elsevier Inc. All rights reserved. About the Author Jagatjoti Khalsa is the founder of Tara Home in Venice, California, which specializes in sacred home furnishings and antiques from the world's most spiritually blessed locations. Tara Home not only focuses on the design needs of the client, but also the underlying personal and spiritual needs that clients may or may not recognize within themselves. He has also worked in the natural foods industry at KIIT, the parent company of Yogi Tea.