Very usefulBy KathleenThis is one of a series of books that are very useful for growing in Minnesota - it obviously gets VERY cold here so it's perfect to have books that apply to our climate.8 of 8 people found the following review helpful. Answers My QuestionsBy Bobby DeeThis book has a photo of each flower. It gives the height, amount of sunlight, problems of the plant such as disease resistant or insects, spacing, when to plant, when the plant blossoms, etc. A real keeper for a novice gardener like myself.

Brilliant photographs and down-to-earth advice are packed into this guide to over 300 annuals suited to the climate of the western Great Lakes region. Engebretson and Williamson provide information on light, water and nutrient needs, as well as recommendations on how and when to start your plants. This book also includes tips on planting, growing, recommended varieties and problems and pests.

The books are colorful, attractive and thorough. They would be a helpful addition to any Wisconsin gardener's library. --Milwaukee Journal Sentinel
For devotees of color-rich annuals, Don Engebretson's and Don Williamson's "Annuals for Minnesota and Wisconsin" promises to become an indispensable companion. Color-steeped photographs and exhaustive charts ensure that gardeners will pull this volume from the shelf year after year. --Northern Gardener, Falcon Heights, MN
About the Author
DON ENGEBRETSON is a University of Minnesota Master Gardener and award-winning garden writer who has been featured regularly on HGTV and has appeared on PBS TV's Hometown program. He is the monthly garden columnist for MPLS-St. Paul magazine, a field editor for Better Homes and Gardens and a frequent contributor to a variety of gardening magazines. Known as the Renegade Gardener, Don has 10 principles of renegade gardening, among them that gardening should be challenging, relaxing and fun, that renegade gardeners know the Latin names of the plants they grow and that gardening and rock music do not mix.
DON WILLIAMSON, who has turned a passion for gardening into his life's work, has a varied background in landscaping, golf course construction and management and now garden writing. He also has extensive experience in the design and construction of both annual and perennial beds in formal landscape settings. Don has a degree in applied horticultural technology and professional certificates in turf management.
