I thought I would just dip into it here and there, but the introduction got me hooked and I started to simply read it! This author really understands desert gardening. She understands our trouble with alkaline soils, our issues of low humidity. And wind! Furthermore - I greatly appreciate her style of imparting information. She doesn't talk down to the reader, or get preachy, nor is it too "sciencey" for me. It's almost like talking with an old friend about gardening and sharing tips for what works. I also like the "Pests" section - she has organic solutions. Finally, the Resources section is a real gold mine of where to go to get things for our gardens. Keep up the good work.

The when-to and how-to schedule for growing, caring for, and maintaining your Southwest garden! Spade? Check. Work gloves? Check. Month-by-Month Gardening guide? Come on - you must admit a great reference book is key to successful gardening in the region where you live. Arizona, Nevada New Mexico Month-by-Month Gardening takes the guesswork out of gardening for anyone residing in the Southwest. With this book, you'll know what to do each month to enjoy a thriving garden all year, from January to December. Chronologically organized, this guide is full of critical gardening when-to and how-to advice, along with illustrated step-by-step instructions. The book's author is Jacqueline Soule, a Tucson-based gardening expert. She knows this arid region inside and out, and she's written several articles and books packed with her gardening advice. Arizona, Nevada New Mexico Month-by-Month Gardening showcases Soule's expertise in one easy-to-read guide. From planting to watering and fertilizing, and from maintenance to problem solving, Arizona, Nevada New Mexico Month-by-Month Gardening shows all levels of gardeners the best practices for gardening in climates and weather conditions of all kinds. If you're a gardener living in Arizona, Nevada, or New Mexico, make sure this essential guide has a home on your bookshelf.

About the Author Jacqueline A. Soule is a botanist and garden writer from Tucson. She has developed strong expertise as a gardener in the Southwest. As a garden writer, Soule has contributed more than a thousand gardening columns for local, regional, and national newspapers and magazines, and she has written or been the technical writer for numerous gardening books. Soule teamed up with the Tierra del Sol Institute to develop its Arizona Gardening Series, consisting of Butterfly Gardening in Southern Arizona (2012) and Success With Succulents (2013). She is the author of Southwest Fruit Vegetable Gardening (Cool Springs Press). When she's not writing gardening columns or books, Soule is a speaker and educator, offering a wide array of plant-related workshops, classes, and other programs throughout southern Arizona, including through OASIS Tucson. She loves to landscape with plants that require as little care as possible. Many of the plants in her books were test grown in her own yard.
