Good information on garden issues By A little piece of Heaven I think this is a very informative book for the PNW gardener...including information on bugs and issues we face with vegetable plants and fruit trees. The book isn't listed by chapter for each month of the year, but there is a lot of information included for every season throughout the book. Would love to have seen colored pictures, instead of the BW ones, because you show examples of bugs on the plants, rust on leaves, and more....and it would be nice to be able to compare them to issues on my leaves and plants. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. I like this PNW veggie gardening book the most By Michelle I'm a newbie gardener. I bought a bunch of vegetable gardening for PNW books and this was the easiest one that I read. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By Cooper's Hawk Linda Gilkeson is the best writer about gardening in the PNW. Period.

Are you itching to start your own garden or improve the yield from the one you already have but feel that gardening is too challenging or time consuming for your busy schedule? Would you like to enjoy fresh, home-grown produce every month of the year? Backyard Bounty is like having your own master gardener to consult every step of the way. This encyclopedic reference demystifies gardening, bringing it back to the down-to-earth, environmentally practical activity that anyone can enjoy. Learn about: Planning your garden and preparing the soil Organic fertilizers and simplified composting Growing healthy seedlings, transplanting, easy weeding and mulching Growing fruit and simple pruning methods Greenhouses, tunnels, and containers Organic pest management and more Packed with a wealth of information specific to the Pacific Northwest, this complete guide emphasizes low maintenance methods, exposes common gardening myths, includes a monthly garden schedule for year-round planting and harvesting, and features plant profiles for everything from apples to zucchini. Perfect for novice and experienced gardeners alike, Backyard Bounty shows how even the smallest garden can produce a surprising amount of food twelve months of the year. Linda Gilkeson is a passionate organic gardener with over forty years of gardening experience. She is a regular instructor in the Master Gardener programs in British Columbia and has led hundreds of workshops on pest management and organic gardening. Her Year-Around Harvest is considered the definitive guide to winter gardening on the west coast.

New book from Linda Gilkeson This is the sort of news that organic gardeners in BC should get excited about Whether youre a novice gardener or a seasoned grower, theres lots of really practical, helpful insights in this book. And, like the WCS Growing Guide, its regionally specific, so theres no guess work in adjusting the planting schedules We see lots of new books come in, but this one deserves some attention, in my opinion. West Coast Seeds blog Are you itching to start your own garden or grow more in the one you have, but feel that gardening is too challenging or time-consuming for your busy schedule? Would you like to enjoy fresh, home-grown produce every month of the year? Backyard Bounty is like having your own Master Gardener to consult every step of the way. City Farmer
