Great Intro to the Commercial Greenhouse IndustryBy Stephen LIf anyone out there is curious about how commercial greenhouses operate, this book is it! It was suggested to me by someone in a professional gardening web forum.I was looking for a book that would show me how the big boys do it. Heating, Cooling, Media, Fertilizer, etc.. It was like I got a tour of some of the top greenhouses in the world and had someone take notes! And at 800 pages, this is a bargain considering all the info in it. And I love all the tables, charts, and formulas. I will be able to use these as I start my own commercial greenhouse.The 2nd half of the book is dedicated to 137 different crops, and how to grow each in a greenhouse environment.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. this has been the best greenhouse book for close to a centuryBy BruceRWintergreenGardenThe Ball Redbook was first put together by George J. Ball. It cost 10 cents. Today the Ball Seed Co, and all there parts (PanAm Seed, Burpee Seed, etc.) is the biggest horticultural co. in the world. When I say big, I mean BIG. I have 7 additions of this book, and this one is not the last. The last one is two volumes. Nothing like it, never will be anything like it.
