Jennifer Beaver, Don Williamson : Best Garden Plants for California before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Best Garden Plants for California:

This practical, inspiring guide will take the guesswork out of choosing the right plants for California's climates and landscapes. Gardeners from all over the state will find this useful guide a vital part of selecting a wide range of garden plants. The plants are readily available, grow well, and offer the best features in any size or style of garden. Packed with tips and planting information.

About the Author Master Gardener JENNIFER E. BEAVER discovered a passion for plants after witnessing their transformative power in neighborhoods. She helped found a group that successfully saves urban landscape trees, thereby reducing pollution and preserving property values. She is always on the prowl for new plant combinations! She lives in Orange County, CA. DON WILLIAMSON, the author or coauthor of more than a dozen popular gardening guides, has a degree in horticultural technology and professional certificates in turf management. He has extensive experience designing and constructing both perennial and annual beds in formal landscape settings.
