Serge Gleizes : Bruno Moinard: From Line to Light before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Bruno Moinard: From Line to Light:

Bruno Moinard (b. 1956) is one of the leading interior architects working today. Based in Paris, his work can be seen in the Cartier stores in New York, Paris, and Milan; the Chateau Latour vineyard in Pauillac; Veuve Clicquot's Hotel du Marc in Reims; boutique hotels such as the Chengdu in China and the Plaza Athene in Paris, and the Grill at the Dorchester in London. Moinard has also stamped his signature on sumptuous apartments, mansions, and homes worldwide. His style is minimalist and warm, somber without being austere, elegant and timeless, and always focusing on light. It offers luxury without ostentation. Here, in stunning new photographs and magnificent sketches, his work is presented in five sections: light, materials, luxury, blueprints, and furnishings, to inspire anyone looking for elegance.

About the Author Serge Gleizes is the author of several books, including Abrams Pierre Frey. Jacques Ppion is a French interiors and architecture photographer.
