Yes, I can finally get rid of my folder of Bust tear-outs By DatDCFrancochick I have been reading Bust magazine for years and it is one of my favorite magazines. I've been tearing out the crafts and recipes for years. I was excited when I saw the ad for this book, but it went far beyond my expectations. I'm a super busy person, but I find that if you go through there are a mix of projects that are appropriate for all levels of crafting, cooking or tips. For example, I've made the lamp out of books and it was super easy and I've received numerous complements on it. I know I won't be sewing my own clothes, but they have a skirt that you can make out of hem tape. And cooking. Well, in my little bit of spare time I love cooking and the recipes are mostly handed down from grandmothers, mothers, aunts (which unfortunately, you don't always get the backstory in the book) and run the gamut from super fancy to super easy. I promise you that if I, the non-artistic, almost type-A MBA working 60 hours a week can find time to do something from this book and love it, you can too! 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Perfect for the Multicraftual By Bohoknitterchic This book is perfect for any woman who wants to know how to do it all, and doesn't mind getting her hands dirty. Every section had projects that I wanted to make or do, and I even enjoyed reading about the things that I might never find a use for. There are quirky projects for every type of girl, every aspect of your world, and every stage of your life. I mean, how many books teach you how to cook a fantastic meal, stitch the place setting and customize the plates to put it on, sew a dress, doll yourself up for the party, clean up the mess, tune up your bike, and then burn off the calories you consumed eating your goodies? 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I wanted to love this By Stephanie The overall idea of this book is great, I definitely love doing things myself. Unfortunately and obviously, they couldn't include lots of pictures on how to do a lot of the things. Especially the cooking section, there are barely any photos, some of the recipes have no photos at all. I think I'll reference a few tutorials in this book, but I don't see myself using it as often as I wish.

Whether its sewing clothes, making cheese, or growing a garden, the modern appeal of do-it-yourself projects has a broader reach than ever. And who better to teach us how to DIY our lives than the ber-crafty editors of BUST, the quirky, raw, and real magazine for women who have something to get off their chests? In The BUST DIY Guide to Life, magazine founders Debbie Stoller (of Stitch n Bitch fame) and Laurie Henzel have culled more than 250 of the best DIY and craft projects from its 15-year history. Organized by category beauty and health, fashion, food and entertaining, career, finance, travel, and sex and written in BUST's trademark brazen and witty style, this quintessential DIY encyclopedia from the quintessential DIY magazine is eclectic, empowering, hilarious, and downright practical, truly capturing the spirit of women today. Praise for the BUST DIY Guide to Life: This lifestyle manual will come in handy when you need anything from a headache remedy to a dirt-cheap wedding. Entertainment Weekly Has tips on beauty, fashion, and finance, too, all with attitude. But our dog-eared pages? Decorating, all the way. -- Los Angeles Times Its a rare do-it-yourself book that combines instructions for both homemade pot holders and Tantric sex. But The Bust DIY Guide to Life isnt your typical how-to manual. The book, by Bust magazine cofounders Laurie Henzel and Debbie Stoller, is an irreverent yet informative guide to much of what life throws your way removing laundry stains, lubricating a bicycle chain, even planning a wedding on the cheap. Akron Beacon Journal "Looking for one source to provide answers on how to do practical things? This is it! A friendly compendium that shows you (with many pictures and diagrams) how to replace a broken zipper, make soap, turn your bell bottoms into straight-leg jeans, how to buy an old house, how to buy a vintage car, how to skateboard and lots more." The Fresno Bee
